

ABSTRACT

A filtering system with a probe for coupling two resonators includes an iris having the probe disposed therein coupled between the two resonators. The probe has a transverse opening for receiving a tuning conductor, and the tuning conductor provides adjustable coupling between the two resonators.